Social Hygiene Meeting. There will be an important meeting of the Connecticut Society of Social Hygiene's executive committee at 4.20 o'clock the afternoon of February 18 at the office of Dr. Thomas Hepburn, Hartford. Important business will include plans for widening the scope of the educational campaign throughout the state, arrangements to give even more active support to the bill, now before the legislature, providing for the establishment of a state reformatory for delinguent women and a report for delinquent women and a report from Dr. Valeria H. Parker, field sec-retary, relative to her work.

Mme. Poyla Frisch to be Heard Agai The announcement that the engagement of Mme. Povia Frisch, the young Danish sopranc and Roderick White, the young American violinist, is an assured fact, will be received with a great deal of satisfaction in local musical circles. Although the list of subscribers is not as large as it has been on some previous occasions, yet subscribers is not as large as it has been on some previous occasions, yet from the interest displayed by those who have already subscribed, the management feit justified in closing the option that it held, believing that if it were definitely known that these two great artists were to visit Norwich many more would sign the sub-

After all, it is the subscribers that make it possible for those responsible for the Slater hall music courses to for the Slater hall music courses to continue these concerts from year to year. If it were regarded purely in the light of a business investment, the music-patronizing public would never have had an opportunity to hear many of the great musical organizations of the country, or any of the big artists that have appeared from time to time in this course. These annual concerts are a civic asset beyond appraisal, due credit for which should be given, first to the promoters and next to the subscribers who have so generously upheld the efforts of the management of the Slater hall course. The coming recital, which is to take management of the Siater hall course.

The coming recital, which is to take place on Friday, Feb. 28, promises to be of more than usual excellence.

Mme. Povia Frisch, the young Danish soprano, will be pleasantly remembered by all who had the pleasure of hearing her on the occasion of her appearance in Slater hall two years ago.

Among the many new artists who Among the many new artists who have been recently introduced to the American concert stage, none has re-ceived more instant recognition than this lieder singer, whose art has been pronounced unique and whose recitals in New York, Boston and Chicago have been events which have stood out in a crowded concert calendar. She will be assisted by M. Jean Verd, ful Tulliver, Five-part Triangle Feature Photoplay.

For Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week an unprecedented vaudeville and photoplay program has been selected by the management of this theatre. The headline attraction vaudeville and photoplay program has been selected by the management of this theatre. The headline attraction is the Basebail Four, comprised of Hugh Bradley, formerly of the Boston Red Sox, George Crabbie, formerly of the Brooklyn Nations, George Robinson, San Antonio, Texas league, and Joe Gleason, Shreveport, of the same league. They present a bright singing and comedy offering entitled Twenty Minutes in the Club House, with special scenery depicting the interior of a basebail clubhouse. This is a big Keith offering and is sure to be a hit with the local fans. Another big specialty is presented by Roy Cumming and Hazel Skelly called One Afternoon, a rapid fire comedy skit with special scenery and effects. The third act is Wilson and Larsen, the talkative acrobats who have some new stunts to offer in the athletic line. The Triangle feature is the favorite western actor, William S. Hart, in Truthful Tulliver, a five-part lifee production.

Truthful Tulliver is the absorbing Truthful Tulliver is the absorbing tale of a fighting newspaper man who drove wickedness out of Glory Hole and in accomplishing it became instrumental in the working out of two romances. Its action is laid in a small Arizona mining hamlet in the early sixties, and revolves about the timely advent of a journeyman editor with a big heart, a clean soul and two guins two guns. Hart is seen in the title role, and his portrayal is declared to be equal, if not superior to anything he has yet attempted. From the moment of his introduction he is the same rugged, fearless he-man that he has been ged, fearless he-man that he has been in all his successes.

To complete the show there will be a Pathe comedy called Luke's Noisy Knock Out, a film with nothing but laughs. Mary Pickford will be seen here the last haif of this week in her latest picture, The Pride of the Clan.

Matinee at 2.15; evening 6.45 and 8.45. Don't fail to see this great show.

BREED THEATRE.

The World's Most Famous Actor, E. H Southern, Supported by Peggy Hyland in "The Chattel," Five Part Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Feature For Today and Tuesday.

E. H. Southern, the world's most famous actor makes his debut in motion pictures in the Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature, The Chattel, which is the feature attraction at the Breed theatre today and Tuesday.

Mr. Southern was born at New Orleans and is the son of the late E. A. Southern of "Lord Dundreary" fame. He was educated in England and following his father's footsteps he appeared first in Boston in a playlet called Brother Sam," which the elder Southern was producing. He then played with the late John E. McCullough for a season, later going to London and appearing in productions there.

Returning to the United States he toured the country in a repertoire of plays, following which he was seen repeatedly in New York theatres in various plays as leading man, mostly in romantic dramas.

In 1903 he became co-star with Julia Marlowa under the direction of Marlowe under the direction of Charles Frohman, which was practically the beginning of his career as a Shakespearean star. Beginning about 1906 he was under the direction of the Schuberts. His industrious career included several European tours and also many revivals of his earlier suc-

Desiring a most attractive leading lady for Mr. Southern, J. Stuart Biackton of the Vitagraph company was fortunate enough to secure Peggy Hyland, who finds in the role of Leila Bard, which is the part she plays in The Chattel one decidedly to her liking. Miss Hyland is known as the English beauty and after coming to this country appeared in The Yellok Jacket, and later went into motion pictures where she scored heavily.

The Chattel promises to be one o the strongest screen offerings ever presented in this city.

The Breed will also present the fifth chapter of The Great Secret, starring Francis. Bushman and Beverly Bayne.

She will be assisted by M. Jean Verd, planist.

This will be the first appearance in Norwich of Roderick White, the young American violinist. Mr. White made his American debut in March, 1915, since which time he has been heard on tour with Alice Nielsen and played with John McCormack in Brooklyn. He has traveled from coast to coast and from Canada to the guif, playing in many concerts, and with Mme. Frances Alda and Mme. Dustinn. While in San Francisco he took part in the big Beethoven festival—one of the most important musical features of the exposition.

The subscription list for this recital will remain at Cranston's for a few more days and it is expected that the list will be materially added to, before it is closed. Reserved seats for the recital are $2.00 and subscribers will have the privilege of selecting their seats before the public sale is held.

Very Good Eddie is an anomoly among musical productions. With no star interpreting it, no sensational methods used in its exploitation and nothing to recommend it beyond its inherent merit, it has become the musical success of the past decade and bids fair to show a profit to the Marbury-Comstock company of better than a half-million dollars.

Christ Church Rector and Choir Brightens Afternoon at Sheltering Arms-Pupils Give Successful Play -Lincoln Day Concert Exercise-Personal Items.

Rev. Richard R. Graham and the girls' choir of Christ church were at the Sheltering Arms Sunday afternoon. girls' choir of Christ church were at the Sheltering Arms Sunday afternoon. The service of evening prayer was read and an address given having for its text, Hope and quietly wait for the salvation of God. Our Lord is the Saviour because He suffered, Rev, Mr. Graham said. He can help us because He was tempted in all points like as we are. We meet one who has really suffered yet who is hoping and quietly waiting for God. We know that what He says is drawn from the depths of experience and it comes with force and power. Jeremiah was one who spoke out of the abundance of experience. Is there any sorrow like unto my sorrow? he asked. It is hard to hope and wait for the salvation of God when things seem to be going against us. We must have faith first of all that God will fulfill His promises. This faith must be connected with the confidence that we have done our part. Hopeful waiting brings comfort, peace and sunlight into lives. God is underneath us with everlasting arms until He comes, at length. The Auditorium.

Fox Flim Corporation presents Gladys Coburn in five-part feature, The Battle of Life, Selig Tribune Weekly and Taking the Honeymoon, comedy, also on the bill.

The attractions at the Auditorium for Monday and Tuesday, to all appearances, will surpass any movie program ever put on the screen in this vicinity before. to the human race. The Peck-McWilliams Co.

Hurt was the nation with a mighty wound.
And all her ways were filled with clam'rous sound.
Walled foud the fouth with unremitting grief.
And wept the North that could not find relief.
Then madness joined its harshest tone to strife.
A minor note swelled in the song of life.
Till, stirring with the love that filled his breast,
But still, unfinching at the right's behest,
Grave Lincola came, strong-handed, from afar.
The mighty Homer of the lyre of war.
Twas he who bade the raging tempest cease. Wrenched from his heart the harmony Muted the strings that made the dis-cord-Wrong.

And gave his spirit up in thundrous And gave his spirit song.

O. mighty Master of the mighty lyre.
Earth heard and trembled at thy
strains of fire;
Earth learned of thee what Heav'n
already knew,
And wrote thee down among her treasured few.

—Paul Laurence Dunbar.

POETRY

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Heroic soul, in homely garb half hid. Sincore, sagacious, melancholy Sincore, sagacious, quaint.
What he endured, no loss than what he did.
Has reared his monument and crowned him saint.

J. T. Trowbridge.

LINCOLN.

A peaceful life—just toil and rest—All his desire:
To read the books he liked the best
Beside the cabin fire—
God's word and man's—to peer sometimes
Above the page, in smouldering
And catch, like far beroic rhymes,
The on-march of his dreams.

A peaceful life—to hear the low
Of pastured herds.
Or woodnan's axe that, blow on blow,
Fell sweet as rhythmic words.
And yet there stirred within his breast
A fateful pulse that, like a roll
Of drums, made high above his rest
A tumuit in his soul.

A peaceful life!—They haled him even
As one was haled
Whose open palms were nailed toward
Heaven
When prayers nor aught nualled.
And, lof be paid the selfanme price
To lull a nation's awful strife
And will us, through the sacrifice
Of self, his peaceful life.
—James Whitcomb Riley.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Flatbush—Do you know anything which comes into your house which has not advanced in value?

Bensonhurst—I do; my wife's mother.—Yonkers Statesman.

Contractor—I'm employing all the men I need right now.

The Ragged Applicant—Seems to me you could take on me, the little work I'd do—The Siren. 'How fast can this car go?" "Sixty miles an hour."
"Thank you. That will relieve me of the necessity of trying to find out its maximum speed for myself."—Detroit

Marcella-Did I understand you to say Gerty Giddigad won't take you seriously? Waverly—Not exactly. I said serious-ly, she won't take me at all.—Youngs-town, Telegram.

Dad, will you let me have 50 plunks? "Do you mean fifty dollars?" "Yes: it it's all the same to you." "Well, it's all the same to me. You can't have them."—Birmingham Age-Herald. Prim Old Girl (at art museum)-

And this, I presume is Cleopatria, the Theda Bara of her day? English Capstaker—On the contrury, madaine, this is the Venue de Milo. Quite 'armiess, madame, quite armiesss.—Sun Dial. "The footpad fired at you four times from a distance of 20 feet and yet missed you?"
"On, no!" replied the hero of the adventure. "I missed him. I have dodged so many automobiles and motorcycles that I had no difficulty in dodging the bullets."—Kansas City Star.

Friend-What is your baby going to be when he grows up?
Financier A blackmailer. I'm afraid.
Friend—Impossible! What makes you think so?
Financier—We have to give him something every little while to keep him quiet.—Tit Bits.
